Sumerfest, a great success

By THEOLA JONES
MCN Special Writer

The jury is in - the 2001 Summerfest was a great success!

Summerfest 2001 Committee members, and chairperson Ruth E. Williams, extend a hearty "thank you" to the hundreds of Inksterites and their friends for helping to make this year's city-wide program a huge success.

Beginning with the Friday's activities until the final performance on Sunday night, there was something for little and big kids alike to enjoy. It was the best celebration by far.

The outstanding line-up of professional and amateur entertainers, talented soloists and excellent gospel choirs, tasty food treats, merchants with their beautiful wares, all combined with the spectacular and stupendous fire works display to make for an exciting, awesome and fantastic weekend.

On Sunday, Williams also was in for a surprise. She was given an unannounced, impromptu birthday party. She received gifts, rose and hugs.

Williams, who is an Inkster Parks and Recreation supervisor who has chaired all three previous Summerfests, was serenaded by a niece and nephew, who were joined by a crowd estimated at about 600 people who sang "Happy Birthday."

The crowd was later was served slices of delicious birthday cake.

Lucky Raffle Winners were Freddy Clark, who captured the first-place prize of $500 of groceries from Krogers; Shelia Yarbough was the winner of the second prize of $200 of gasoline; and Lorraine Hoskins was declared the winner of the third prize, a DVD player.

From all indications, Inkster Summerfest 2001 promises to be even bigger and greater; thanks to the experience and knowledge gained from the previous three gala affairs.

Amazing - couple celebrates their 71st anniversary

By THEOLA JONES
MCN Special Writer

In an age when marriages and commitments don't seem to last, a Westland couple is living proof that marriages can work.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thomas have accomplished an amazing feat - they recently celebrated their 71st wedding anniversary, which, if not a record, it close to one.

The couple are presently living at the Westland Convalescent Home in Westland. The Thomases resided in the city of Inkster for over 60 years and were married on July 26, 1930, in Detroit, at the St. John's C.M.E. Church. The Rev. T. J. Marpoly presided at the ceremony.

The Thomases are also founding members of the Womack Temple C.M.E. Church in Inkster where the Rev. Terrell A. Jackson is the pastor.

"My husband went to the Fell-rath Lumber Yard and told Mr. Fellrath he would pay for all of the material to build our church. And he did. His name is on the cornerstone," Mrs. Thomas said. Arthur Thomas held the office of church treasurer for over 45 years, which is probably another record. He was also the treasurer of the Elks Golden Gate Lodge IBP, and he is the second oldest member (92-year-old). George Grant has the distinction of being the oldest member.

Family and friends were served a delicious anniversary dinner prepared by long-time friend Ruby Taylor. The honored couple's meal was served on a white linen tablecloth, with sparkling white china and crystal glass.

Mr. Thomas, never one to mince words, said he had no idea all this would be done for his anniversary. Philip Hendrix and his wife, Sara, have known the couple for over 58 years. In fact, Hendrix served in the Armed Forces with Mr. Thomas during World War II.

Hendrix recalled the tours he and Thomas were on in Belgium, and in England during the war. He also said they hit the Normandy Beachhead, which launched the invasion of Nazi-occupied Europe.

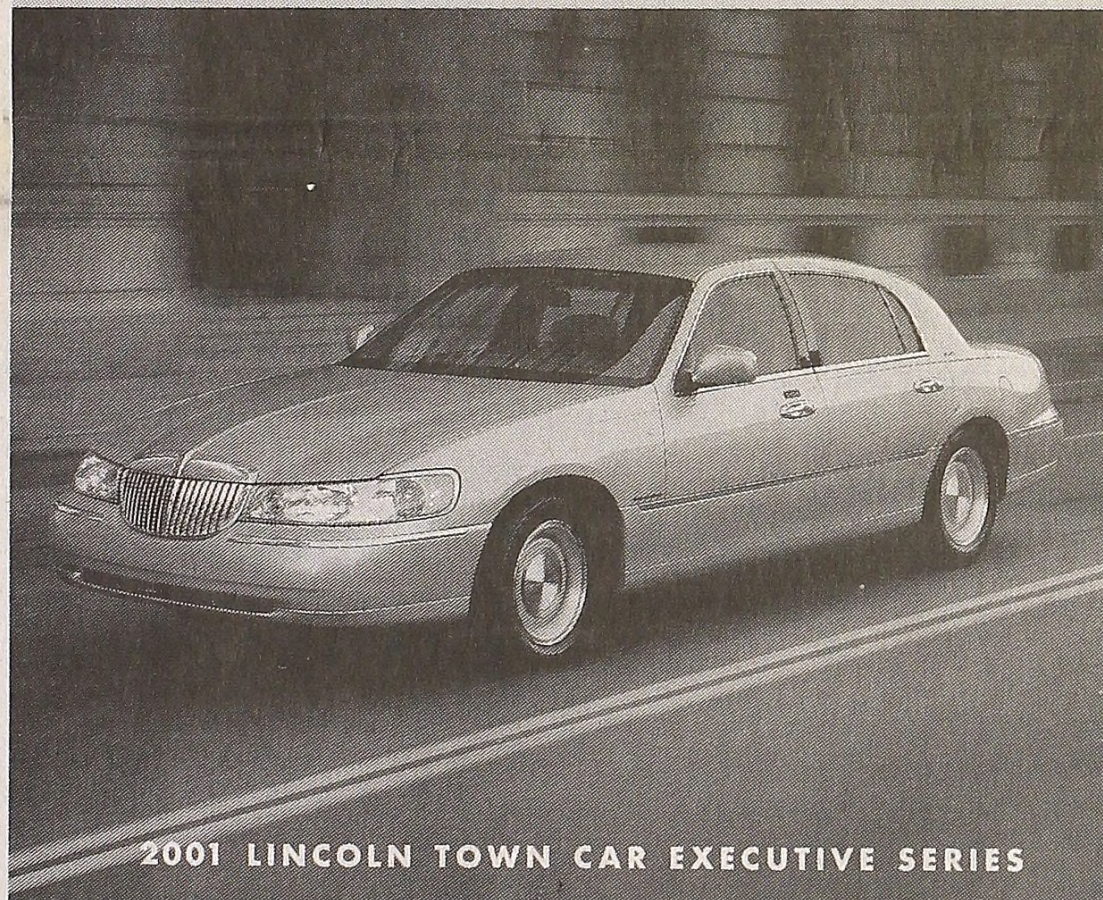

Hendrix and Thomas are members of the same lodge, Golden Gate IBP.

NEWS FROM THE CITY OF WAYNE

Picnic in the Park

Summer time is definitely picnic time, and the Wayne Rotary Club, sticking with tradition, held its annual picnics at the two parks that bear the club's name. Club members hosted picnics at Rotary Park No. 1 and Rotary Park No.2, and club officials stated both were well attended. Also in attendance were the Wayne Police and Fire Departments who offered residents tips on staying cool in the heat. Police Officer Frank Cavaros also brought the police dog along to provide some interesting entertainment. The Recreation Department's "Fun Squad" added to the fun of the afternoon at both of the events.

New development breaks ground on Van born road

Cooper Creek Development Corp. was expected to break ground Tuesday afternoon for a 15 unit home site on Van Born Road, east of Chamberlain Street.

"We're excited about this project," says Cary Belovitz, of Copper Creek Development, a Canton Township-based corporation. "We are planning to construct 15 units priced from $180,000. The land is presently vacant land, and we believe the new homes will enhance the neighborhood."

According to the floor plans offered to the media by Belovitz, the new two-story homes will have four and five bedrooms, media-recreation room, a library and attached garage.

On the upper level, there will be a master suite, bathrooms, bedrooms, a dining room and a family room. There will be approximately 2424 square footage of living space.

"We have been building homes in the immediate area for 25 years," says Belovitz, "but this is our first venture in the City of Wayne. Like our other projects, we have confidence that this project also will be a successful one."

PAL holds graduation exercises

In collaboration with Employment and Training Designs, the PAL Life program will hold graduation exercises at 11 a.m. on Friday, Aug. 10, at the Wayne Community Center, Howe and Annapolis Roads.

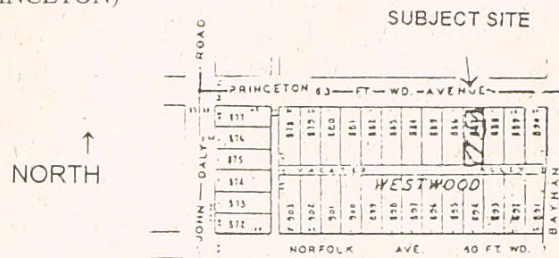

ETD and the Romulus FIA work together with the Welfare Reform customers to improve their basic math and reading skills to obtain a GED, while gaining occupational skills to improve their ability to get and maintain jobs that may lead to self-sufficiency.

"We are anticipating over 120 persons to attend this ceremony," says Tobi Shingleton, program publicist.

Ice Arena repairs near completion

Kimberly J. Fallow, director of Wayne Parks and Recreation, informed mayor and council Tuesday night that the ice arena renovation project is "substantially completed."

Fallow stressed that the Ice Arena would be available for skating on Aug. 6, and the department planned to host a small open house ceremony sometime in the fall. In her communique to mayor and council, Fallow pointed out there were three major areas to the renovation project that included pre-cast bleacher seating with storage underneath, a new dehumidification unit, and major repairs to the metal deck roof.

In addition to the three areas of renovation, the building and grounds maintenance staff has renovated the four locker rooms. New plumbing fixtures, tile, benches, along with a new coat of paint that has been added to the facility.

"The project has been very smooth, and we are confident that our patrons will appreciate the positive changes made," Fallow added.

'Playboy' brings memories of alligator encounters

Wow, am I glad those dozen brave police and animal control officers were able to capture the alligator named "Playboy" in a Van Buren Township pond. I'm sure all the neighbors had their homes locked up tight, shaking in fear that they might be a victim of the hungry 3 1/2 foot reptile.

Back, where I come from, at least part of the year, the good ole boys would be tossing leftovers to this puny runt of a gator. They would want to fatten him up for gator hunting season. Three and a half feet is nothing — they don't even begin hunting the slithering critters until their about eight feet.

Why a few years back we were visiting friends in a populated subdivision that wove its way around a public golf course. As my wife got up to open the car door, she came screaming back in to the house, flailing her arms and inaudibly saying there was a gator underneath our car.

The rest of us clamored off our perches to check the situation out. There it was, in all its glory, an alligator three times the size of "Playboy" checking out the SUV's exhaust system. I don't know if the gator was attempting to get high or finding a shady hiding place, but he wasn't about to leave even though there were six humans understandably upset that he had chosen their driveway, ten feet from the entrance to their house, to rest his nappy self.

Finally what seemed like after hours of pinochle later, the alligator decided to leave the car's underbelly. What a sight it was. The gator, on all fours was almost prancing down the public sidewalk. It was like he didn't want to get his feet dirty — using the pavement as his own private roadway instead of the grass or dirt or water puddles.

Then there was the time, actually only last year, that a kid in this very same subdivision decided he was going to save another gator from banishment. This gator was making a nuisance of himself, always showing up in neighbors' yards or garages, when he wasn't invited.

This kid, about 11 years in age, saw the alligator, about six feet in length sunning on the side of the road one day. He was riding his bike, and apparently thought this is my opportunity to apprehend the hated critter. So he gets off his bike, walks over to the gator, grabs him, and slings him over his shoulder, like he's carrying a gunny-sack full of apples.

Now the alligator, as I said, was sunning himself, and actually taking a pretty sound nap. So sound, he did not wake up when the kid tossed him over his shoulder. The young boy managed to get the gator all the way home — a good half mile ride, only to have the gator suddenly awake and take a nice chunk of flesh out of his shoulder.

Alligators in Florida are like deer in Michigan. They are everywhere. All you need is a sense of daring, a gator hunting license, and a good grappling hook and you're in business.

We've got a four foot alligator that we share our Florida home with. We purchased the house first, but for some reason, the alligator thinks the dock and shoreline belong to him. I can walk out to the dock at any time of the day and the miserable critter will be tanning on the beach. The guy, probably four years old, is less afraid of me than I am of him. If you get too close he slowly wanders away. But if you don't approach, he just stares back at you like you're invading his space, or something.

Thus when I saw the gathering of big, muscular tough-as-nails law enforcement officers trying to snare "Playboy" I was amused. Here they were attempting to capture this iddy-biddy alligator in a pond that was small enough to fit in your back yard. Why I even heard there was talk MDEQ was going to drain the pond if "Playboy" wasn't apprehended soon.

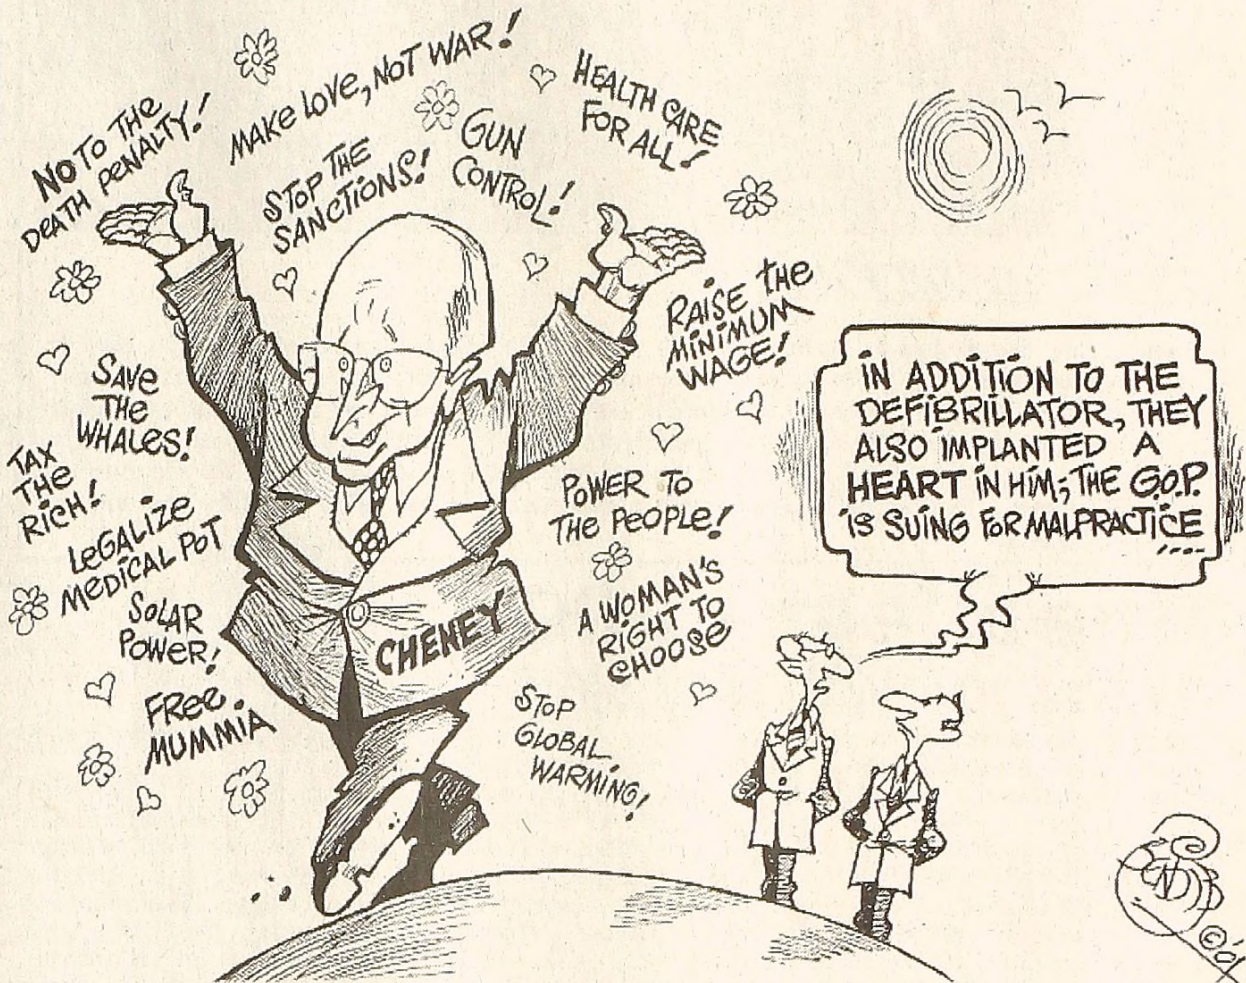

I'm surprised they didn't call Steve Erwin, television's famous "Crocodile Hunter." Why I bet Steve and his wife, could have filmed an entire show watching the feeble attempts of local law enforcement attempting to capture the gator.

We got a huge laugh from the "chad" fiasco in Florida. Now they are chuckling about us and our comical attempts to apprehend a baby alligator. Next time call me and I'll get some of my "gator huntin'" buddies to capture the slippery fella. Only stipulation: they gotta keep the gator, because one six-foot gator can make a lot of mighty-fine walkin' wear.

Mike's musings

Mike Wilcox

Tax-crazy governor ignores constitution

Michigan, as do a number of states, levies what is called a "Sales and Use Tax."

The "Sales Tax" is applied to most of the merchandise sold within the state. The state tries to levy the "Use Tax" on merchandise purchased from out-of-state but "used" in Michigan.

The problem with collecting the use tax is that unless the out-of-state seller adds the tax and remits it to Michigan, there is no mechanism to collect it.

Some out of state sellers do add the tax to their billings since court decisions have said they must if they are also doing business in the state of the buyer. This is called having a "nexus" in the state of the buyer.

The Congress and various state governments are now in the process of setting up a mechanism to force out-of-state sellers (without a "nexus" in the state of the buyer) to collect the "use" tax. The states collecting the tax would remit the taxes collected to a private company, which would then distribute the money to the various states participating in the "compact."

There is one huge problem with the concept of the "Use Tax" — the U.S. Constitution. Article I, Section 9 states, "No Tax or Duty shall be laid on Articles exported from any State. That provision in the Constitution was intended to make all the states into one "free trade" area.

Medium Rare

No state would have the power to make products coming from another state more expensive by imposing a tax on the goods. It did not prohibit states from making their own products less competitive by imposing a tax on sales made within that state.

Nevertheless, most (not all) states charge sales taxes but not at the same rates. Thus, with no use tax, consumers could make purchases in states with lower or no sales tax and save money. This would have the effect of hurting businesses back in their home state.

But politicians are loath to give up any potential source of money they can use to buy the votes of the electorate. So instead of lowering or eliminating their own penalties on local business and consumers, they go to Congress to impose the burden on the businesses in other states.

Michigan Governor John Engler, who just became the leader of the U.S. Governors Conference, has made this one of their top priorities.

In Michigan, Engler is twisting arms to get the legislature to pass S.B. 433. The bill would commit Michigan to a state compact (to be approved by Congress) that would mandate collection of the use tax in all states joining the compact.

But the bill would not just facilitate collection of the use tax; it would remove all caps on the amount (rate) of both sales and use taxes along with eliminating "thresholds" of taxation opening the door for taxation of things like groceries now exempt from the tax. But what's the problem if such a use tax is unconstitutional?

The problem is that the courts seldom follow the Constitution anymore, at least its original intent. There is different philosophy of constitutional "interpretation" often called the "living constitution." In essence, this philosophy says the original constitution is an outdated document that is not applicable to current problems and can be "reinterpreted" (without amending it) to reach a "desirable result."

Unfortunately, this philosophy is held by a majority of judges and lawyers today. Until the courts can be dragged (kicking and screaming) back to following the Constitution; the immediate action required is to stop S.B. 433. That can only be done by ordinary citizens expressing their outrage to their elected representatives in Lansing.

SOUND OFF EXTRA

Though 'a stitch,' Angela Todd way off-base as dietician

You provide fodder for your readers with the ongoing antics of Angela Todd. Her letters are a stitch. But, though she appears to have a good heart, her bias against overweight people is mean-spirited and serves no public purpose.

Though she might see the answer to what she perceives as their weight problems with more toe-tapping, those of us dealing with our own appearance and health issues realize that it takes much more than willpower or fancy footwork.

Less Todd 'articles,' more other letters would be welcome

Doesn't anyone else write to the paper?

I have come to just skim the "Letters from Our Readers" section. If it is a Todd "article," I just turn the page. I don't particularly care for her letters/articles.

I live in Romulus. I don't know who she is or why she gets so much print. I just wish your paper would print a variety of letters from different people. It sure would make the "Letters from the Readers" section a lot more interesting.

People should take down garage sale signs quickly

I would like the people who have garage sales and put their signs up on posts at the end of the street to take their signs down after the sales.

It looks terrible to have signs up two-three weeks after the sale that people won't tear down.

I talked to one lady and she said, "I won't take my signs down when others don't."

I can't blame her, but I think that if they put them up, they should take them down.

Gracins deserve respect after all they did during recall

Why do you have the right to talk down about the Gracins? Who are you to question the Gracins?

Last time I checked the Gracins were the good guys. They lead the recall effort against four councilman to help this city. Then certain citizens turn around and question them?

Did anyone question them about how much of their own money they had to spend towards that recall? Or the lawsuits they are facing? Or how they had to remortgage their house? Did anyone ask them that? Because if you did, you would realize that the Gracins would never steal anything from the citizens of this city.

The Gracins deserve the respect and support of the citizens of Westland because who knows how much money and heartache they saved all of us.

Westland voters urged not to support 'good ol' boys'

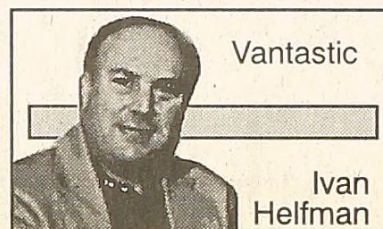

Voters beware!

The good ol' boys are back in the form of four-year council seat candidates.

Remember the literature "Silent Majority Speaks Out?"

William Wild and his wife supported the council members that were being recalled. William Wild is an appointee of the mayor's to the planning commission.

They won't give up easily. Let's hope the voter's continue to want cleansing and will not vote for Wild.

Vantastic

Ivan Helfman

July 16: "An individual came into the police station to report a young man throwing a straw wrapper on the ground in the parking lot of McDonald's."

No pickup?

July 17: "An employee of Montana Rail Link notified dispatchers that they had found a horse walking on the tracks at 6:47 a.m. and had brought it into their office."

Instead of a Michigan Avenue ho'.

July 20: "A convenience store reported that they had an adult male shoplifter. This turned out to be a disagreement about milk for coffee. The store didn't have any cream, so the customer opened some up from the dairy case and didn't want to pay. . . . The matter was settled in the presence of the officer."

No security officers to jump the perp?

July 22: "An anonymous caller reported that about 4 p.m., three large men were smoking and drinking on the roof of the porch of a house on East Lewis and they had mooned a passing car. An officer warned the men about their antics."

No tickets?

July 1: "A drunk at a Gardiner bar was cursing the cowboys at 1:58 a.m. He was told to knock it off."

No brawl?

But my favorite happened on July 18: "Two juveniles were attempting to steal beer out of a West Park Street convenience store at 17 minutes after midnight. The clerk yelled at them, and they brought back the beer."

Hiaasen couldn't figure out what was more "mind-boggling" — a convenience store clerk who would raise his voice to a couple of thieves or thieves who would follow the clerk's orders.

For me, the mind-boggler is trying to figure how to bring about "a world without wailing sirens or breathless news bulletins."

According to Hiaasen, "It's not that the rules are different; the attitude is."

Both the attitude of the Montana citizens, who are more law-abiding (excepting the Unabomber and the Free Men, of course), and the attitude of the police, who are more laid back.

I bring this up in hopes that we can learn from them.

Following Montanans, Wayne County residents can restrain our own dark tendencies. But for this to happen, Wayne County police departments have to recognize that peace is created in Montana by free citizens behaving civilly.

It's not created by a wasps nest of stinging laws masked by expensive public relations campaigns.

If Wayne County communities could invest the same money into creating a civilized society (based on families, neighborhoods, and small institutions) as they put into public relations gimmicks, "zero tolerance" law enforcement and the bullish prison industry, then we wouldn't have to travel out of the mainstream to avoid the wailing sirens.

UAW locals endorse LeBlanc and five council candidates

To the editor:

It seems that at least one of the local politicians is whining about who did and did not get the UAW endorsement for the office of mayor in the city of Westland.

Let's set the record straight, UAW Region 1-A made no official endorsement, but three western Wayne County locals were allowed to make the endorsements for the city of Westland.

With active and retired members, there are about 4,000 UAW members from these locals living within the city.

This same politician doesn't know if she is a Republican or a Democrat. For years, she supported every Republican candidate that ran for office but now is professing to be a Democrat. It really makes no difference which political party she prefers. One would think she would quit riding the fence and come down on one side or the other.

These endorsements were made by the members who actually live in Westland and not by a single person on the Regional CAP committee, who doesn't live in Westland, much less know anything about the candidates.

Once again, we applaud Gerald Bantom, our regional director, for allowing us to make the following endorsements: Westland mayor — Richard LeBlanc; Westland city council — Cheryl Graunstadt, Mike Kehrer, Robert Stottlemeyer, Normie Brazier, and Mario Gracin.

In solidarity,

Council candidate offers 'invaluable' experience

To the editor:

My name is Bill Wild and I am declaring myself a candidate for the upcoming city council election in the City of Westland. My wife Sherri, a school teacher, and I are graduates of John Glenn High School. We have lived in Westland most of our lives and plan to raise our family within the community.

I attended the University of Michigan, and own a successful automotive recycling business. I was recently elected to the position of President of the Automotive Recyclers of Michigan. While at age 33, I am the youngest to ever hold this position, I feel my leadership ability goes well beyond my years. I also served as regional director of the Automotive Recyclers Association, a worldwide organization. I feel my greatest attributes are leadership ability, honesty, intelligence, and the ability to "get the job done."

With the political turmoil of the last year behind us and with six seats on the city council up for election this year, our city is on the verge of a new political beginning. It is very important to bring a sense of civility back to our great city. In the past Westland has been guilty of recycling its politicians. It's time to look for new leaders. Leaders who are positive, trustworthy, and are strong enough to be independent thinkers. While I agree that it is important to have experience on the council, I also think it is even more important to have an influx of fresh faces with fresh ideas. One of the biggest challenges for the growth of a community is to continually uncover new leaders.

I currently serve the city as a planning commissioner. My experience there will be invaluable to me on the council. My other political experience has been within my industry.

As President of ARM I have sat across the table from U.S. and State Senators and Representatives, the M.D.E.Q. leaders from the major auto insurance companies, as well as the big three auto makers. I have fought to protect the rights of our members.

Let me put my experience to work for you and the City of Westland. Please let me know what issues are important to you. Together we can make a difference. If you would like to join our team contact our committee, Citizens for Wild, at (734) 451-5339. You may also E-mail me at wrw19@aol.com.

Sincerely,
Bill Wild

LeBlanc welcomes locals' support

Letter to the editor

In response to a statement from Ms. Cicirelli requesting clarification of a political endorsement, first allow me to say I agree the issue deserves clarity. Therefore, I shall address the issue directly.

The process by which the UAW conducts interviews and endorses political candidates involves people from many different communities. Elected and appointed UAW leaders residing within Westland had requested of and received permission from UAW Region 1A to conduct separate interviews regarding all Westland candidates. This Political Screening Committee comprised of Westland residents from UAW Locals 900, 735 and 845 had no problem reaching a consensus and endorsed my candidacy for election as Mayor.

My understanding is that the Region itself has neither endorsed nor opposed any candidate for Westland Mayor, and it is for that reason I chose to omit any reference to a Region 1A endorsement on three separate pieces of campaign literature printed in June, July and August of this year.

Only one year ago the Region endorsed a candidate for a different elective office within Westland. Many of these same Political Screening Committee members and other Westland UAW members opposed the Region and opposed the Region 1A endorsed candidate. The candidate was defeated, and Glenn Anderson then went on to victory in November.

One might have thought lessons were learned back then.

The UAW preaches solidarity, but also appears to respect individuality. So do I. While I would have appreciated an endorsement from Region 1A, I have a greater appreciation for the individual citizenry of Westland.

Many residents have stated they believe much is at stake in this election - that Westland is at a critical crossroad - and that they will vote for me. I am truly grateful to the elected and appointed UAW officials who have joined many other Westland residents and have pledged to support my candidacy.

I have chosen to walk neighborhoods, to speak with businesses, homeowners, and other residents in order to share my qualifications and to inquire of their concerns. People have communicated overwhelmingly their approval regarding the tone of my campaign. And although our candidacies are starkly different, my hope is that the mayoral candidates share one commonality: that we will each insist upon a clean campaign.

If certain topics become uncomfortable, so be it. However, Westland deserves an election season free of nastiness and it is up to each of us to denounce dirty politics.

My personal pledge to the Westland community is exactly the same as utilized during my previously successful election campaigns: My campaign will be truthful, factual, assertive and without mudslinging. Please vote September 11th.

‘Good person’ wasn’t laughing at Todd

To the editor:

For those who read that Laughable article by Angela Todd in the Thursday, August 2 paper, I'm the She Demon that Ms. Todd mentioned. I also just happen to be a BBW (Big Beautiful Women — aka what Angela Todd would say “fat”).

On top of being a BBW, I'm Christine Millisor's daughter; the so-called “trouble maker” for the city.

What trouble did my mother cause? Was it because she helped get two councilman recalled? Does that make her a trouble maker?

Back to why I am writing. I know Ms. Todd was talking about me. She did ride her bike past me, and I was laughing when she passed me, but in her mind I was laughing at her.

I'm sorry, Ms Todd, I wasn't wasting my time on laughing at you. I have no reason to laugh at you, I don't do and say things just to be rude.

Todd not educated about niceness

To the editor:

Angela Todd, though I am not a resident of the Michigan community, I sometimes read what people say about an area before I decide to visit for myself, and I must say that what I have read from you is very disconcerting about people that are overweight.

How is it that a woman who gets so much pleasure from cutting others down at every chance even comprehend what it is like for other who must read her drivel

She seems to be a little confused: it wasn't a Slurpee, it was a bottle of water. They are very different. Most people can tell the difference.

I can't understand why this woman would make such comments about me. I just wonder her true intentions. Tell me this, please: is it because I'm obese? Is that why you have the nerve to say these things about me? Did you think I was getting even for all those horrid tasteless articles you were writing about obese people? Are you threatened by obese people Ms Todd?

You said you were frightened by me. Why would a 20-year-old woman frighten you?

All these questions and probably no answers. I guess I just don't understand why people are so rude and heartless. I wear my heart on my sleeve just like I always will, 'cuz Im a good person. Unlike some people in this world.

Sky shines over City Golf tourney field

A so-so golfer in '98, McBeth wins by 5 strokes

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

It was a clear sky on Sunday that dominated the skies over the City Championship Golf field, and it was clearly Sky McBeth's day to shine.

A golfer who played in the 1998 championships and finished far down the field, McBeth's game came back in 2001 with revenge on his mind at Gateway Golf Club where he quickly established himself as the leader.

He shot a field-leading 74 on Saturday.

Then, on Sunday, McBeth carded a one-under-par 71 for a 36-hole total of 145 to capture the 2001 City Championship Golf coveted medalist honors by a five stroke margin.

McBeth's closest competition came from Canton Township's John Gabossi, who was runner-up for the field and won his first "city title" thanks to a two-day total of 150 (77-73).

"Sky deserved the championship by shooting the tournament's low both days," said Jeff Rutter, tournament director. "It's rare to see a golfer come out of nowhere and suddenly take on the giants of this tournament and cut them down.

"He deserves a lot of recognition for this victory."

Gabossi never got closer than three strokes from the champion in the first round, but he played exceptional golf the second day, carding a 73 and shaving four strokes off of his first-day score of 77 to keep the outcome of the meet in doubt.

The heat was not a factor in the 2001 tournament, according to Rutter.

"It hit 90 both days but on Saturday there was a breeze to accompany a clear sky," Rutter noted. "We got better scores from the field on Sunday, even though it was more humid and a hotter day.

Mark Morton, a four-time champion, who has never played at the new Gateway, overcame a first round 78 to post a 73 in the final round on Sunday. His 152 total gave him third place overall for the second consecutive year.

Morton's 152, however, sealed the City of Westland's title for him. He recaptured the city crown from defending champion, Chris Tompkins, who was not a factor in this year's tournament. Tompkins's 83-79-162 was good for third place in the Westland Division.

In the meantime, Wayne golfers probably may want to consider filing an anti-trust lawsuit against Keith Kiesznowski, who has now won the City of Wayne title and therefore been awarded the Lenny Anderson Trophy for straight years. The trophy is named for Patrolman Anderson, a Wayne police officer slain in the line of duty.

Tireless Bill Hawley, the long-time Wayne Memorial Athletic Director, successfully defended his Senior Division Championship, Hawley edged Rick Stoner of Wayne for the third straight year.

Over in the Women's Division, Karen Blackney of Taylor won a two-stroke victory over Sandy Felan of Wayne to capture the Women's Championship.

Blackney carded an 84 in the opening day of action and managed to score a 78 in the finals for a two-day total of 162. Felan also had her share of problems on Saturday, finishing with an 86, but she came back with a 78 to finish with a 164.

Although he finished second overall to Sky McBeth, Gabossi walked off the Gateway course with his first Canton Township championship.

Twisters tame Cougars, 59-10, for 2nd victory

If the rest of the football season goes as well for CEO Glenn Brothers and the Michigan Twisters as did the first two weeks, you won't hear Brothers complaining.

The Twisters buried the Motor City Cougars, 59-10, for their second big win. It was the worst defeat the Cougars had suffered in the past two years.

From the opening kickoff, the Twisters went to work and before the end of the first quarter they had put 21 points on the board.

The Twisters then added points in each of the following quarters. The Twister offense visited the Cougars' end zone on eight separate occasions much to the dismay of the host team.

Just two games into the regular season of the Lakeshore Semiprofessional Football League, the Twisters have outscored their opponents 107-10.

On the offensive side on the ball, quarterback Rob Elswick completed 18 of his 28 aeriels for 268 yards. Of these 16 completions, seven went for touchdowns that covered 30, 34, 14, 5, 40, 9 and 31 yards.

Twisters' wide receiver Reggie Brandon, a former standout at Wayne Memorial, had four receptions for 95 yards and three TDs. He was joined by wide receiver Frank Niscoromi who pulled in four passes for 64 yards and two touchdowns, while Shaun Baylis caught two for 40 yards and also had two TD catches.

Currently, the Lakeshore League record books are being reviewed to determine if QB Elswick's magnificent performance established a new league record for passing TDs in a single game.

"It's also interesting to note that Mr. Elswick sat out four offensive series of plays as the squad was put under the guidance of John Robinson and Thad Hughey," said Brothers. "Both are hopeful future starters."

The games leading rusher was again Jason Gibson who carried eight times for 70 yards, including a 10-yard sprint for a touchdown early in the first period. Gibson was followed closely by Ben Ferguson who rushed five times for 56 yards resulting in three first downs.

In all, eight different Twister backs saw playing time producing a total of 158 yards.

Chuck Petitpas' mastery of the uprights continues without a blemish as he added another 12 points on 8 for 8 point-after, and also booting a 31 yard field goal. His consecutive string of PAT's has stretched to 14, and he's 3 for 3 on field goals.

Offensively, the Twisters amassed a grand total of 448 yards, 158 rushing and 290 rushing. The total established another new Twister record.

The Twisters defense totally destroyed the Cougars, holding their opponent's running game to a mere 35 yards on 29 attempts and 107 yards passing on a six of 21 effort.

In addition, the defense forced five fumbles and intercepted three passes. Defensive back LaVaughn Smith had two interceptions and Tim Simons had one.

Twister linebackers Bob Pensari and Aaron Brothers - both of Canton - Chuck Lauber and River Pollington - both of Westland - and Monte Thomas were a "five man wrecking crew," according to Brothers. The five-man team jointly accounted for 13 solo tackles along with 23 assists for the evening.

All 22 members of the defensive unit had at least one assist.

"Coach Brown and I were very pleased with the overall team effort on both sides of the ball," Brothers later said. "We were able to get a good look at the skills which each new member brings to the team under actual game conditions."

"Needless to say, it is very comforting to know you can depend on all 52 players rather than 22 starters."

The Twisters will be on the road Saturday, paying the Michigan Rattlers a visit in Battle Creek. The two Lakeshore opponents square off at 7 p.m. at St. Phillips High School.

"We encourage our fans to take the short 95 mile drive across state to support their local team. They'll see a great game," said Brothers.

Wayne's Scott Jones makes his move

Young golfer's 82 good for first place tie

Most young teenage boys admit they are not crazy about wearing ties.

But golfers on The Michigan Cup Red and Blue Tours concede the "ties" they picked up Friday look pretty snazzy.

Wayne's Scott Jones, improving with every tournament, fired a 41-41-82 to deadlock Nicholas Kolderman of Dearborn (44-38-82) for first place honors in the high school Red Division Friday at Willow Metropark.

To carry the necktie motif a little farther, Ben Underwood and Chris Sorensen, both of Canton Township, "scarfed" down 97's to walk off together with a share of the championship in the middle school age Blue Tour division at Willow Park.

Jones, who has entered four of the 10 Michigan Cup-sponsored tournaments this season, must like Willow Metropark's difficult 5,378-yard, par 36-35-71 layout because he had a second-place finish there three weeks ago.

His 42-40-82 at that time fell just four strokes short of victory to Steven Robinson's 78.

Jones was hindered by double-bogeys at 6, 11, and 14 but a fine birdie putt on 7 helped him make the turn at 41 and he parred the final three greens for his 82.

Kolderman was actually the "hotter man" with his one-birdie 38 on the back nine to offset his front side 44. He shared the victory with Jones.

Canton's Nathan Perkovich (43-41-84) saw his hopes for victory go out the window when he double-bogeyed the first and 17th holes, but he hung in there with pars on 16 and 18 to earn 75 points for his third-place finish.

His 110 total points, from the tournament catapulted him into second place with a season mark of 610, just 10 points behind Red Tour point standings leader Jason Adkins.

Kyle Przydzial of Dearborn (43-43-86) collected a pair of birdies - on 7 and 14 - to end in a 3-way tie (there's that word again) for fourth with Corey Huhn (45-41) and Brian Hejka (43-53).

Eddie Bellamy shot 44-43-87 and Canton's Joe Pomorski (46-42-88) was eighth.

Rounding out the 14-person field were: Wayne's Josh Joseph (45-45-90); Corey Skiff (47-46-93); Angelo Fileccia (52-44-96); Canton's Jamie Siedlaczek (53-48-101); Lyrrad Braceful (53-52-105) and Ryan Murphy (64-55-119).

In the Blue Tour middle school age group, Underwood and Sorensen, just starting out on Perkovich perking his way to top

Canton Township's Nathan Perkovich garnered 170 points in two Michigan Cup Junior Golf Red Tour tournaments last week that launched him into second place in the overall point standings with 610, just 10 behind tour leader Jason Adkins.

Perkovich was really "perking" — nailing a third-place finish Friday at Fox Hills for 110 points and picking up 60 more at Willow Metropark on July 30.

You could say he has "grounds for believing he can win the Overall Point Championship in the inaugural season of The Michigan Cup Junior Golf Association."

Golfers on the high school age Red Tour and middle school age Blue Tour are given points for where they finish in tournaments as well as points for eagles, birdies and pars in each event.

Likewise, Wayne's Scott Jones with his first place tie at Willow Metropark Friday and sixth-place performance at Fox Hills collected 250 points in last week's two tournaments to jump to 10th place in point standings with 445.

Other area golfers in the hunt include Plymouth's Daryl South in 14th spot with 420; Livonia's Dru Girard, who won the Fox Hills tournament with a 77, has 405 points, tied with Wayne's Josh Joseph and Canton's Joe Pomorski for 15th slot and Canton's Brandon Scero ranks number 20 with 385 points.

Leading the pack is Adkins with 620 points, followed by Perkovich, then Brian Hejka with 595 in third place, Livonia's Steven Robinson with 585 in fourth and Joshua Frison with 565 in fifth.

Running sixth through 10th are Chris Dujovski, 540; Kyle Przydzial, 520; Joseph Gagnon, 510; David Lughermo, 505, and Wayne's Scott Jones, 445 points.

In the Blue Division, Zach Smith is a run-away leader with 840 points, far ahead of runner-up Tyler Jeleniewski of Plymouth, who has 430.

Canton's Ross Gerulis resides in third with 405, Belleville's Chris Duffy has 335 in fourth, tied with Livonia's Matthew Robinson.

Canton's Ben Underwood is sixth with 350, Plymouth's Sean VanLoozen, 340; Canton's Ty Staber and Plymouth's Nick Taggie, 325; Derek Moos, 310; Belleville's Mark Davenport, 235; Canton's Chris Sorensen, 230; Canton's Derek Schmitt, 205; Thomas McHenry, 70; and Canton's Kyle Sanders, 60.

Tour

golf careers, found the different elevations of Willow Metropark quite daunting.

Both came back with stronger back nines - Underwood tacking on a 46 to his first half 51 and Sorensen shooting 45 after going 52 on the first nine.

Nick Taggie of Plymouth finished third with 52-48-100, Derek Moos carded 52-53-105, and Thomas McHenry rounded out the five-man field with 59-63-122.

In the Michigan Cup Junior Golf Association's other tournament last week, Dru Girard of Livonia (36-41-77) rode five birdies to a 3-stroke victory on the high school division Red Tour at Fox Hills on July 30.

Giard must have felt like he was on a roller-coaster ride.

Consecutive birds on 6, 7, and 8 turned a "so-so" four-bogey front Hills nine into a stellar one-over-par 36 before birdies on 16 and 17 overcame a triple-and-double bogey on 13 and 15 for 41 on the Woodlands nine.

With the brilliant 5-birdie round, Giard "outfoxed" the rest of the 23-person field to win his first Red Tour victory by three strokes with 77.

David Lughermo birdied the second hole and added nine pars but was plagued by double-bogeys on 3, 11, and 17 that gave him a runner-up finish with 39-41-80.

Plymouth's Daryl South and Kainoa Thomas both shot 41-40-81 to grab a "tie" for third place on Fox Hills' par 35-35-70 venue. Daryl's game, which definitely didn't go "south", was consistent and didn't card a double-bogey all day.

Thomas, on the other hand, overcame a triple-bogey on the long par 3 third hole and parred 6 out of 7 middle holes to bring his game back into focus.

Wayne's Scott Jones (41-43-84) jump-started his round with a first-hole birdie but double-bogeys at 2, 4, and 5 and a triple on the par 5 15th pulled him down into a sixth-place tie with Plymouth's Ryan VanLoozen (43-41-84), whose three double-bogeys kept him from contending.

Wayne's Josh Joseph (40-46), Canton's Mike Cassidy (45-41), Kyle Przydzial (42-44) and Corey Skiff (40-46) forged a four-way tie for eighth with 86's.

Joseph and Skiff (with birdies on 3 and 8) were still in the title chase with front nine 40's but both ballooned to 46's on the back side. Joseph played well overall but going 8-over-par on holes 13 and 16 took him out of contention.

Cassidy stumbled to a front side 45 but tried to "hop-a-long" to the front of the pack with a back nine 41.

Shot of the day honors went to Livonia's Justin Zagata who notched an eagle three on the tough par 5 second hole that doglegs over water and a grove of trees. After paring the first hole and eagling the second, Zagata was two-under-par, but suffered a

It's time for fall schedules

Although some of the local high school athletic directors atypically have "faxed" their fall athletic schedule early to {I}The Michigan Community Newspapers' {r} sports desk, the MCN staff is making its annual and traditional plea for the schedules.

Fall sports include football, girls basketball, boys and girls cross country, boys golf and soccer, girls' swimming, and tennis for boys and girls.

Practice officially will begin on Monday, Aug. 13, and the first contest for most of the fall sports are scheduled for the last week of August.

Belleville, Plymouth (Canton and Salem), Robichaud, and Westland John Glenn have forwarded their schedules to the sports department. The staff is still waiting to hear from Wayne Memorial, Romulus, and Inkster.

The schedules are needed to help MCN staffers assign photographers and reporters.

For further information, contact the MCN Sports Desk at 734-729-4000 or "fax" information to MCN at 734-729-6088.
